STEEPLECHASERS ON THE FLAT

The recent opening of the meeting at Saratoga marks also the opening of the New York steeplechasing and hurdle season. Because Aqueduct has been torn down to make way for a new racing plant (which will include a steeplechase track) and because improvements at Belmont made steeplechasing there impossible until fall, the jumpers have had to wait until Saratoga to see action in the Empire State. This delay has been softened by a considerable annual increase in purses and by races at the spring Hunt Race meetings, at Delaware Park in June, and at Monmouth in July. But since New York is the major supporter of jumping races, the enthusiasts feel somewhat relieved to have them back.

Undeniably steeplechasing is going through a rough period. Even though track management officials admit that the $2.00 horse players enjoy jump-up races—and many of them admit no such thing—they cite figures showing that the same players won't bet on them. Fortunately these figures have recently begun to look better. The fact that steeplechase favorites consistently win more often than favorites on the flat is sinking in, thanks to the efforts of Monmouth Park, United Hunts and Amory Haskell who is President of both, so that the steeplechase and hurdle handle is steadily improving.

Another favorable factor is the growing realisation that jumping and flat racing can both help the same horse. We are beginning to learn (as the French have known for a long time) that many horses will run better on the flat after a tour of duty over jumps—Flying Fury, last year's winner of the Midsummer Hurdle (Aug. 3) and Manhattan Handicaps (Oct. 6th) is a conspicuous example. The great increase during recent years in the popularity of grass racing, most of which is conducted at longer distances, brings home the point that the larger stables can advantageously alternate their horses between jumping and flat races as well as between dirt and grass courses—a particularly important point since lack of support from owners has been felt almost as keenly as lack of support from bettors.

A third factor is the growing interest in distance racing. It has been conclusively demonstrated, notably at Pimlico, that the public prefers races which go twice pass the grandstands, finds the form more consistent and bets more money on them. So far these demonstrations have been largely confined to meetings in the autumn, however. This follows the traditional pattern developed when there was no winter racing and most horses were not fit enough to go "all around the park" until the latter part of the season.

With winter racing in Florida, California and New Orleans, however, there is no reason for Racing Secretaries, during the first half of the season, to write condition books which favor the stay-at-homes and the short horses. The tracks will make more money if some distance races are carded the year round—and the steeplechase and hurdle horses in the long run will benefit accordingly.

Letters

Recommends Book

Dear Sir:

A year or more ago The Chronicle reviewed a book by the well known British horseman Horace Smith entitled "A Horseman Through Six Reigns". Having just finished the book which I read with the greatest interest - I am writing this letter for the benefit of any of your readers who may have missed it on the first go round.

Smith recalls the highlights of his own life and of a career which has most certainly been unique. Starting in the early 1890's he worked first as his father's employee and later as the head of the largest firm in London renting and selling private carriage horses, with literally hundreds of horses constantly out on rental, and other hundreds sold outright each year. This continued until the first world war, and Smith's account of the activities of that period is a fascinating picture of a horse world which has now completely vanished, and which I, for one, had never quite envisioned.

After the war, with his business vanishing before his eyes and his competitors leaving the horse business completely, Smith found a different solution. He built up two new activities - the teaching of riding with schools both in London and in the country (staff of twelve riding masters in the London school alone), and, as a separate activity, the sale of riding horses of all types and the renting of horses including hunters, - both activities on a tremendous scale which made his firm the largest of its kind in England. As a riding master his pupils included a noteworthy list of important people, among them the present queen and her children. As a seller he handled many of the outstanding horses of the period.

Horace Smith is a keen observer of horses and of people. His shrewd and often

BREEDING AND Racing

REVIEW OF THE WEEK

69th Running of Brooklyn Handicap Won by Clearwater Stable's Porterville

Raleigh Burroughs

Recognizing the fact that the Dodgers might some day be moved to a foreign place, and that the outside world might never again hear of Brooklyn, the management of Gravesend racetrack hung the name onto a handicap that was inaugurated in 1887.

Sixty-nine times, since that inspired christening, the news services have flashed out a message beginning, "The Brooklyn Handicap was won by . . .".

Thus, the beloved word is flashed the world over, causing exiles to weep sentimentally in their ale and compose passages like, "If I should die, think only this of me: there is a corner of a foreign field that is forever Flatbush."

Eddie Arcaro, though born a far piece from the Home of the Bums, must feel an affection for the place, as he has won the handicap of the same name four times.

On August 3, it was his objective to make it five, as is his custom with 50- and 100-grand stakes.

Speculators at the Belmont Park course that day thought he would do it and made his mount, Third Brother, the most-played horse in the race.

Handicapper Frank A. Kilroe also liked Third Brother best, and that can ruin a horse. Mr. Kilroe showed his esteem by handing the animal 126 pounds.

On Clearwater Stable's Porterville, which was managed by Jockey Eldon Nelson, Mr. Kilroe placed 116. Admiral Vee and Riley each had 120 pounds, Tick Tock, 118, and the other three, Grand Canyon, Hare Raising and Beam Rider, were assigned 111, 108 and 112 as listed.

The imposts for the 1 3/16-mile race did not bring about that dream of every handicapper, a full-field dead-heat. Still, it was a darned good contest.

Hare Raising came away from the gate swiftly, just as though he had a right to be in the race, though he had been fraternizing with selling platters as recently as mid-June. After half a mile he was still on top, but Porterville was beginning to become annoying. In the next quarter of a mile, Porterville got to the front and, at the mile, was three lengths on top. Hare Raising still was clinging to second place, but Tick Tock and Admiral Vee were making him sweat. It was at this point that Hare Raising realized that this was not an optional claiming race. He bowed out gracefully.

Porterville had a length and a quarter of safety at the eighth pole and Nelson spread him out to last by half a length over Admiral Vee. Tick Tock was a neck back in third place, and Third Brother was two lengths farther behind, in the fourth spot.

Porterville was registering his second stakes win and fourth victory in any kind of a race in 1957. He paid $26.10.

Worth $37,700, the money award put the five-year-old horse at $86,150 for the year. His other stakes win was in the Carter Handicap.

By Count Fleet-Artena, by Questionnaire, Porterville was bred by Harborvale Stables. A. J. Pupino trains him.

Clearwater Stable is owned by E. A. Roberts and F. L. Leatherbury.

Top Flight Handicap

A Turf-writer friend of mine has discovered that he has the power to put the double whammy on a horse and it has made him very unhappy. He wishes only the best for all Thoroughbreds, except those running against the ones he owns or is betting on.

When he wrote about Barbizon, that colt went sour. He did a piece on Gen. Duke and that was the end of him. Bold Ruler was the next to feel the colt kiss of calamity. Then came Irate and *Gallant Man.

Just recently, this former friend of mine put his literary curse on Outer Space. "There's no telling just how good she is," he said.

That did it. It MUST have, because Outer Space had galloped off from her opposition and won laughing - six times, before the jinx finger typed her name. Then she got herself licked in the Top Flight Handicap - at 4 to 5, yet. It is ridiculous to term this mere coincidence; they hanged people in Salem for less.

Mr. Harry La Montagne's Plotter won the Top Flight on July 31 and paid $26.40 for $2. The daughter of Double Jay-Conniver, by Discovery, broke last of ten, but with the help of the devil or somebody, was in front before going a quarter of a mile and stayed there to the end. Outer Space was about half a length back of the leader for almost the entire trip. Favorite players didn't give up until the sixteenth pole was reached. There Plotter began to draw away. She won by a length and a half. Outer Space was second, 3 1/2 lengths before Sorceress, and that one was a length and a half in front of Fanciful Maid. The race was at 1 1/16 miles.

Plotter, a four-year-old filly, earned $19,950 to put her season's total at $38,850. She has won 5 races and been second once in 6 starts.

Outer Space was the only three-year-old in the race.

Plotter was ridden by Pete Anderson. W. Post trains her and Mr. La Montagne is her breeder.

Washington Park

On August 3, an effort was made to stabilize the three-year-old situation at Washington Park.

Some progress was made.

Iron Liege, winner of the Kentucky Derby, the Jersey Stakes and the Laurence Armour Memorial, splashed through the slop to add the one-mile Sheridan Handicap. He was the high-weight in the field with 126 and the public choice at 3 to 2.

Joe Price finished second, two lengths behind the winner. He carried 14 pounds less. Clem, winner of the Classic, and carrying 124, was third.

Iron Liege (Bull Lea-Iron Maiden, by War Admiral) put $24,625 to the account of his owner, Calumet Farm, and that makes $294,330 he has piled up this season.

Johnny Cotter Rides Sanford Stud Farms' Ideal View to Victory in Midsummer Hurdles

Al Cadeaux

For the second year in a row, Trainer Hollie Hughes and Jockey John Cotter were instrumental in bringing home the winner of the Invitational Midsummer Hurdle Handicap.

This season's victor was Sanford Stud Farms' Ideal View. Like Cain Hoy Stable's Flying Fury, winner of the 1956 running of the about two miles event, Ideal View was conditioned by the veteran Hughes and ridden by the erstwhile horseman, Cotter, in his smashing triumph in America's richest hurdle event. Of the $22,000 grand prize, Stephen (Laddie) Sanford, of the Sanford Stud Farms, received $15,000 for his homebred's surprising success in the Midsummer, which climaxed Monmouth Park's hurdle program for the year.

Under 141 pounds, the 4-year-old son of Round View, holder of Monmouth's mile and a quarter track record of 2:01 1/5, set in winning the 1947 Monmouth Handicap, repelled the challenge of Mrs. Henry T. McKnight's Great Tom to win by a half-length. Great Tom, who also carried 141 pounds and was guided by apprentice Joseph Aitcheson, Jr., finished 2 1/2 lengths before Mrs. Michael G. Walsh's Rhythminhim, who competed with 148 pounds and was ridden by Tom Walsh. A neck out of the money was the 17-10 favorite, Allison Stern's Greek Brother.

Ideal View paid $44.10 to win, as one of four single betting interests.

Mrs. Ogden Phipps' Ancestor, the 153-pound top weight in the Midsummer, broke alertly and led briefly. The 8-year-old son of Challedon, in contention for a mile, finished seventh in the 10-horse field.

THE CHRONICLE

Ahead, both under top weight of 159 pounds.

Recording his second successive victory of the Monmouth Park hurdle season, the 5-year-old gelded son of the French *Ambiorix and Idle Quest by *Sir Gallahad 3rd rallied in the final yards under A. P. (Paddy) Smithwick's vigorous urging to nullify the final thrust of Breakers Ahead in the mile and three-quarters obstacle event run in 3:28 in soft going. Out Of Reach's triumph was highly pleasing as he returned a $4.40 straight return for each $2.00 in his support.

Smithwick, representing the owner and trainer, D. M. Smithwick, accepted a piece of plate from Miss W. Helen Eden, assistant secretary of the United Hunts Racing Association and Mr. Thomas H. McKoy, Jr., secretary of United Hunts.

Out Of Reach's third hurdle victory this year was achieved chiefly through the aid of his rider who timed the horse's move perfectly. Lying in fourth position under a steady hold, Out Of Reach circled Helianthemum and Breakers Ahead at the top of the stretch, and obtained a daylight advantage going to the 10th and last jump. However, Harry Hatcher, astride the second choice, Breakers Ahead, made a desperate try for the lead after clearing the last hurdle and, for a moment, it appeared that his charge would carry him safely by Out Of Reach.

With perhaps 25 yards remaining, the favorite picked up momentum to cross the wire a length before Breakers Ahead. Mrs. Michael G. Walsh's *Patrick Begorra led the faltering Helianthemum by a nose for third.

Longshot rooters of Tremont Farm's Shiny Dime, the pacesetter until approaching the seventh jump, echoed their approval enthusiastically until the Rockefella 5-year-old suddenly shortened stride to drop completely out of contention.

Victory for Llangollen's Get Lost

Llangollen Farm's Get Lost, a winner on the flat and turf, emphasized his versatility on Aug. 1 by winning a mile and three-quarters hurdle event under Evan Jackson's handling.

Carrying top-weight of 153 pounds, the 6-year-old son of *Endeavour II-Brush off by The Porter, came to the wire a neck before E. H. Woods' Scout Mission who was three-quarters of a length in advance of Mycroft.

Marring the event was the spill of Mrs. C. E. Adams' Air School who fell over the ninth jump in the stretch, causing the 13-10 favorite, Mrs. Henry T. McKnight's *Narcissus 2nd to lose his rider, A. P. Smithwick. The rider on Air School, James Walker, suffered a broken left collar bone.

Air School, 35-1, was rallying between Mycroft and Scout Mission at the time of his fall.

1957 Keeneland Summer Sales

The Keeneland Summer Sales of 1957 set a new high with an average of $11,789 being realized for 235 head, which went under the hammers of the auctioneers, for a total of $2,770,500. During the first session, some of the spectators thought that Tom Caldwell, substituting for the ailing George Swinebroad closed several of the sales rather quickly. But when one beholds the final results, the gentleman couldn't have been too far off with his "gavel swing"; and after all it was his first appearance in a Keeneland sales ring.

Leslie Combs II had the big average of the sale when he sent 8 head through the bidding gauntlet for $296,500 for an average of $37,062. His *Alibhai-Obedient chestnut colt was acquired by E. Constantine, Jr. for $55,000 and his *Royal Charger-*Pashmina bay filly by Rokeby Stables (Paul Mellon) for $47,000.

The $65,000 paid for Forest Retreat Farm's bay colt by *Nasrullah-In Bloom, by J. H. Rouse, agent for King Ranch was tagged with the highest price ticket. The label will be spotlighted everytime the youngster makes a move and his racing career will get the closest scrutiny from all corners.

All in all there were plenty of buyers with plenty of the wherewithal to make the 1957 Keeneland Summer Sales set a new average high, and in most quarters it is believed that the consignors to the Saratoga Yearling Sales will not meet any buyers resistance when the "good ones" go under the hammer. LEATHER BUTTONS OCALA TRAINING

Leather Button, winner of the Joliet Stakes and of The Arlington Futurity through the disqualification of Alhambra, was bred in Kentucky by Warner Jones. He was broken and given his early education at The Ocala Stud in Florida by Ocala's trainer W. Randolph Tayloe. He was sold for $5,200 to his present owner at the First Annual Florida Breeders' Sale in January.

YOUR HOST COLT N.J. CHAMPION

A chestnut colt by Your Host out of Rash Hurry, by John P. Grier belonging to Mrs. F. Wallis Armstrong, Jr.'s Meadowview Farm was made champion of the 11th annual Yearling Show of the Thoroughbred Horse Breeders' Association of New Jersey at Monmouth Park on July 24th. Joint sponsors of the show was the Monmouth Park Jockey Club. This colt, which will be sold at the Fasig-Tipton Company's Saratoga Sales on Thursday, August 15th, is a half-brother to Hurriette, winner of the Rosedale Stakes and to four other winners. His dam is a half-sister to the great race horse and sire Cavalcade and a full sister to the dam of the equally great race horse Alerted. Both on looks and pedigree he was a most fitting champion. The champion filly and reserve champion of the show was G. Wattles' bay by Casemate out of Formidable, by Unbreakable. Preston Burch, trainer for Brookmeade Stable, judged the classes and J. Samuel Perlman, editor and publisher of "The Morning Telegraph", served as honorary steward. Mrs. Richard C. DuPont was honorary chairman of the show and A. J. Marucchi was chairman.

ANOTHER FOR McSHAIN

Following his Irish Derby victory with Eallymoss, Philadelphian John McShain had a further success in Britain when his four-year-old filly Gladness won the Sunninghill Park Stakes at Ascot over two miles, beating the French horse Brasidas II with the utmost ease by eight lengths.

The favorite in a field of four, Gladness is by the St. Leger winner Sayajirao out of a mare by April the Fifth, the winner of the Derby; it is probably from him that Gladness inherits much of her stamina.

CLUBHOUSE TURN

PERRY TWO-YEAR-OLDS

Mr. and Mrs. William Haggan Perry of Middleburg, Va., are racing this season on seven 2-year-olds acquired privately from Mrs. John Thouron of Wilmington, Delaware.

ACQUEDUCT STEEPECHASE COURSE

The Greater New York Association recently announced that the steeplechase and hurdle course at the new Aqueduct Race Track, instead of being a figure eight as previously planned, will be a seven furlong oval strip inside the one mile turf course and the mile and an eighth dirt track.

INTERNATIONAL RACING CONVENTION

According to columnist R. D. Grainger, Paris correspondent of Triangle Publications, a convention of European and American turf executives is proposed in Paris on October 7th to draw up uniform conditions and cooperative dates for international racing. This is the day before the Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe.

ARGENTINE TWO-YEAR-OLD

AUCTIONS
Luis Elortondo, manager of the El Moro Stud owned by the family of Adolfo Bullrich, leading Thoroughbred auctioneers in Argentina, who recently visited Lexington, Ky., reports that in his country the largest stud farms sell two-year-olds which are rated in groups by the consignors. The group rated as the best is sold first and so on down. Prices are generally in line with the breeders' estimates. In this way, the buyers attend the sessions at which they think the prices will be most likely to suit their pocketbooks.

SUCCESS FOR MRS. HANES

Victory in the one mile Midsummer Stakes at Newmarket went to Fairy Stone, a three-year-old filly by Court Martial out of Stone of Fortune, by *Mahmoud, who beat the useful five-year-old My Smokey and last year's Two Thousand Guineas winner Gilles de Retz by a head and two lengths.

In three starts this year, Fairy Stone has won twice and placed second once. She was bought as a yearling on behalf of the late William Woodward, Jr. for $22,500, but after his death passed to Mrs. Hanes, wife of the Chairman of the Greater New York Jockey Club, whose colors she now carries.

MISS SEARS' AMPLEFORTH

American Miss E. R. Sears' three-year-old colt Ampleforth goes from strength to strength, and on July 20th at Phoenix Park won the one mile Fingall Stakes in which he beat the odds-on Chevastrid by a neck. The latter is owned by Joseph McGrath and on his previous appearance had won the semi-Classic King Edward VII Stakes at Ascot.

Bought privately when industrialist John Dunlop gave up racing after only one year, Ampleforth is by Arctic Star, a half-brother to *Solar Slipper who sired Chevastrid.

RACE FOR WINNERS

Writing in The Morning Telegraph, columnist Charles Hatton applauds Horace Wade and racing secretaries of tracks in Chicago and California for their plans to card races for winners. Most U. S. condition books at the present time are filled with races for non-winners of a certain number of races.

NEW AQUEDUCT TRACK

On July 25th, the New York State Racing Commission approved the plans submitted by the Greater New York Association for the development of the new Aqueduct racecourse. Work on the track began the next day. The plans were drawn by the noted race track architect Arthur Froehlich. The new Aqueduct will be the first Thoroughbred track to be erected in New York State since Belmont Park was built in 1905. It is expected that it will be ready for racing on April 1st, 1959.

When completed, new Aqueduct will be the most spacious track in America with seats for 20,000 and room for 50,000 standees. There will be parking facilities for 13,630 cars while the grandstand will have five levels, six restaurants, eighteen escalators, nine elevators, and heating and air conditioning in certain areas. There will be a Turf & Field Club section on the fourth floor where the Greater New York Association will also have its private dining rooms. The track itself will be a mile and an eighth in circumference with a one mile turf course built within the main track and a seven furlong figure-eight course for steeplechase and hurdle events. New stables will have stalls for 500 horses.

WIDENER CHUTE

On Saturday, July 20, the Greater New York Association put out what I figure was a tentative feeler to see what the reaction would be to running two-year-old races on the main track around one turn instead of down the Widener Chute. The feeler was in the form of running the single two-year-old race of the day on the main course. There were no races run down the Widener Chute that day.

Since the crowd didn't riot for lack of Widener Chute races, GNYA tried a stronger approach on Wednesday, July 24. TWO races for maiden two-year-olds were run on the main track and none down the chute. In order that five-furlong races could be run without starting the animals too close to the turn, the finish line was moved up to the sixteenth pole plus another ten or fifteen yards away from the regular finish. That maneuver had the added advantage of giving the general admission customers a look at the end of the race for a change.

To test the public's reaction, there was a note in the racing program asking people to write letters to GNYA telling what they thought about the innovation. Also, it was announced over the public address system that the comments of the racegoers would be appreciated.

I employed a more direct approach. After the first of these races (the third), I asked 51 male general admission attendees if they liked the races around the turn better than chute races. After the fifth race which was the second one in which the main course was substituted for the chute, I asked 66 more. The score out of 117 questions was that 109 preferred the main course to the chute, four preferred the chute, three didn't care, and one wanted to punch me in the nose. He lost $2.00 allegedly because I personally had shortened the stretch thereby causing his choice to lose.

Now let's see what, if any, will be the next step GNYA takes with respect to the ancient and honorable and (by some) cordially disliked Widener Chute.

One of the best race mares and producers ever bred by the late William Woodward, Sr.'s Belair Stud was Vagrancy, half sister, by *Sir Gallahad III, to the stakes winners Vicar, Vicaress and Hypnotic.

Vagrancy took the Selima Stakes at two. The next season she accounted for the Pimlico, Coaching Club, American and Delaware Oaks, Gazelle, Test and Alabama Stakes, Beldame, Ladies' and Queen Isabella Handicaps. She placed in stakes at four, to bring her income from 15 starts to $102,480.

Her first foal, the *Rhodes Scholar colt Black Tarquin, was sent to England, where he triumphed in the Royal Lodge, Gimcrack, St. James Palace, White Rose, Burwell and Chippenham Stakes, and St. Leger in three seasons to earn 29,483 1/2 Pounds. He was rated second on the Free Handicap at two and first at three. Returned to the United States to serve at stud, he proved none too popular, although he got the stakes winners Madam Jet, Dizzy Dora, Orue and Tarboots. Eventually Black Tarquin was sold to British interests and now stands under Tim Vigors' direction at Burgrave Stud, Leighlinbridge, County Carlow, Eire.

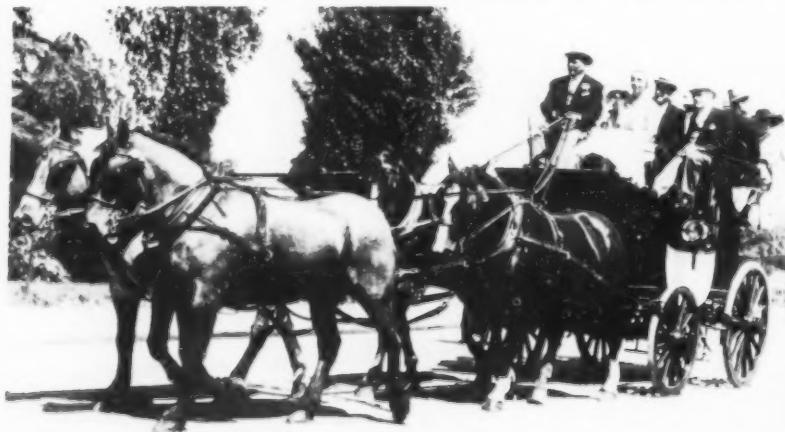

Vagrancy's second foal, the *Isolater filly Truancy, had to be destroyed before she reached the races.

The mare's third offspring, the *Hypnotist II colt Hyvania, was purchased privately as a maiden three-year-old by G. H. "Pete" Bostwick for conversion to the jumps. Gelded and racing for Mrs. Bostwick, he has captured the Midsummer and Forget Hurdle Handicaps, two runnings of the Amagansett, 11 other races and $82,050.

Vagrancy's fourth foal, the Some Chance filly Vulcania, became her third added-money scorer with victories in the Demoiselle and Test Stakes, and Diana Handicap. She earned $54,815 in two active seasons.

The mare's fifth offspring and only other foal old enough to have raced a full season, the *Nasrullah filly Natasha, won one race and $3,900 at two.

After William Woodward, Jr.'s tragic death, the Belair breeding stock was sold to a syndicate headed by Mildred W. Woolwine, who dispersed the broodmares and yearlings at Keeneland Jan. 6, 1956. A. B. Hancock, Jr., bid $72,000 for Vulcania, in foal to Dark Star. Greentree Stud paid $51,000 for Vagrancy, in foal to Tom Fool; and $45,000 for the unbred Natasha. The latter's yearling full brother went to Mollie Culom, Agent, for $23,000. F.T.P.

VIRGINIA

MORVEN YEARLINGS

A colt and filly by *Princequillo, the only Saratoga by Quiet Step and the sales' lone daughter of *Sea Charger are among the seven offerings from Morven Stud, the Charlottesville, Va., breeding establishment owned by Whitney Stone, of New York.

At the 1954 Saratoga Sales Mr. Stone sold Getthere Jack for $5,600. This colt was never unplaced at two, when he won the Gulfstream Park Dinner, Gulfstream Oaks winner Viva America, produced Toro Nancy, victor in the Arlington Futurity, and dam of Two and Twenty and Boswell Lady.

The second crop of the $580,756 earner Oil Capitol is represented by Mr. Stone's remaining filly, a half sister to the good-class John's Ex and Tarquilla. The second and third dams were the fine race mares and successful brood mares Blind Lane and Silver Lane.

A pair of half brothers, by "Triple Crown" winners, to stakes captors from the One Hour family complete the Morven consignment. One Hour triumphed in the Astoria Stakes, Adirondack and Beldame Handicaps. She foaled Hoop, Jr., Split Second, Magic Hour and Sir Jeffrey; her daughters have produced Sonic, Favorito, Good Morning, Count Flame and Trying; and her granddaughters have sent forth two-year-old filly. She was sold at Saratoga last year by Danny Van Cleave's Nydrie Stud for $5,500 - a rare bargain. Nydrie is sending another high class consignment to the sales this month.

NYDRIE'S ROMANS

Two colts by Roman are among the yearlings consigned by the Nydrie Stud to the Fasig-Tipton Company's Saratoga Sales. One is a brown, the second foal of Spanish Cream (*Brown King) winner of the Santa Maria and Santa Margarita Handicaps and other stakes, who is a half sister to Prophets Bell, winner of the Rosedale Stakes. The other is a bay, the first foal of the good winner Pahala (Hampden) who is a half sister to William duPont's great race mare Parlo.

HIGH HOPE YEARLINGS

Among the yearlings consigned by Mrs. Marie A. Moore's High Hope Farm, The Plains, Va., to the Fasig-Tipton Company's Yearling Sales at Saratoga is a brown colt by *Nasrullah out of *Badoura (Colorado Kid), the dam of the winners Badalone and Simar and half-sister to the stakes winners Amaranthine, Monseigneur and Caique. Also in the consignment are a bay filly by Bimelech out of Park Juvenile, Tremont and Great American Stakes. His half brother is this summer's Morven colt by *Princequillo, leading sire in number of stakes winners last year and in the early part of this season. The daughter of *Princequillo is a half sister to the stakes-placed Amber Fox and Ament. The third dam, the stakes-placed Peplum, was a full sister to the crack handicapper Cravat and to the fine race mare Jabot, dam of the 1951 "Horse of the Year" Counterpoint; and a half sister to the Spalding Lowe Jenkins Stakes captor Hindu Kush.

Peplum herself produced the colt belonging to the first crop by Quiet Step, who took the Roamer and Butler Handicaps, a division of the Bahamas and $157,435.

Another first-cropper is the filly by *Sea Charger, who triumphed in the National Produce Stakes, Irish 2,000 Guineas and St. Leger. The only two starters of this miss's dam, Gallow, have accounted for 34 races. The third dam, the Kentucky

Battle Morn, Donn Baykey, Grand Entry and Some Fun. A half brother to the Astoria Stakes victor Trying is Mr. Stone's colt by Citation; and a half brother to the two-mile Ascot Gold Cup scorer Some Fun, out of a half sister to the dams of Donn Baykey and Grand Entry, is the Morven colt by Count Fleet.

RACE DAY FOR VIRGINIA BREEDERS

Saturday, the 27th of July, was a big day at the races for Virginia breeders. Romanita (Roman-Maybien, by *Blenheim II) won the Monmouth Oaks, making her the leading claimant for the top three-year-old filly of 1957. The Gilpin family's Kentmere Farm, Boyce, Va., (where she was raised) owns Romanita's dam and will offer a half-brother to the filly, a chestnut colt by *Beau Gem at the Saratoga Sales. Poly Hi (Polynesian-Highfortides by *Jacopo) on the same day won the Arlington Lassie Stakes in Chicago making her the undisputed leading Lismore Liz (Psychic Bid), the dam of three good winners and herself a winner of six races. Last but not least on the list is a gray filly by Oil Capitol out of War Gem (Man o'War), the dam of five starters which won 32 races to the end of 1955.

BLUE RIDGE COLTS

Mrs. George L. Harrison's Blue Ridge Farm, Upperville, Va., is consigning to the Fasig-Tipton Company's Saratoga Yearling Sales an imported bay colt by *My Babu out of Virginia Creeper (Hyperion) who is a sister to the stakes winners Jessamine and Redolent and a half-sister to the stakes winner Fragrant. Her dam is the stakes winner Fragrant II by Pharos. There is also a brown colt by Pavot out of Safari (*Jacopo), a winner whose only foal to race is also a winner and placed in stakes. A third colt is a bay by One Count out of Your Game (*Beau Pere), a

HICKORY HILL YEARLINGS

A filly whose prospects as a brood-mare are quite equal to her promise on the track is consigned by Bertram N.

Linder's Hickory Hill Farm, Dalton, Pa., to the Fasig-Tipton Company's Saratoga Sales. This is the brown filly out of Grand League (Grand Slam) already the dam of two winners and out of Baby League (Bubbling Over), the dam of three of the outstanding performers of recent years - Busher, leading three-year-old of her year; Mr. Busher; and Striking, the latter the dam of the stakes winner Glamour. Another filly from a strong female line is the chestnut by Knockdown whose third dam was the great race mare Black Helen, whose second dam in The Purple (Burgoo King) produced the stakes winner Imagem, and whose dam, the winner Imprint (War Relic) has already produced two winners. There are two brown colts in the consignment, the first by Double Jay out of the frequent winner Camp Sortie (Sortie) who is a half-sister to the stakes winner

Camp Verde. The other colt is by Brookfield out of the winner Imahoney (*Heliopolis) dam of two winners and a half-sister to the stakes winner Big Story.

CALIFORNIA

DEL MAR YEARLINGS

124 yearlings have been approved for the Del Mar Yearling Sales on August 26th and 27th sponsored by the California Thoroughbred Breeders Association and conducted by the Fasig-Tipton Company. Forty-four breeders are consigning fifty-five colts, sixty-eight fillies and a gelding. The sales committee has passed on all pedigrees and Col. F. W. Koester, general manager of the CTBA has examined each youngster for conformation and soundness.

KEENELAND YEARLING ECONOMICS

In a recent issue of "The Blood-Horse", J. A. Estes publishes some figures on the prices brought by the yearlings offered at the Keeneland Sales in 1950 and their subsequent earnings on the race track. He observes that their average earnings were about two and a half times their sales prices; that is not enough to account for purchase price plus training expenses; but that in 1956, if sold at auction by their then owners, they would in all probability realize something over a million dollars. Mr. Estes concludes, "If the same man had bought all the yearlings sold at Keeneland in the summer of 1950, and if he had dispersed them by public auction at the end of 1956, apparently he would have had his fun and made a profit too."

MAPLE CREST TRIO

The Mulholland Brothers' Maple Crest Farm, Georgetown, will offer at the Saratoga Yearling Sales a *Miche roan colt, and fillies by Mr. Trouble and Oil Capitol.

Both the misses are half sisters to stakes winners. The daughter of Mr. Trouble is a half sister to the New Mexico Futurity captor Great Stride; and the daughter of Oil Capitol is a half sister to Party Gossip, victor in a division of the Hialeah Juvenile Stakes. F.T.P.

TRAFFIC JUDGE RETIRED

Traffic Judge was retired immediately after his Independence Day victory in the $75,000-added Suburban Handicap at Belmont Park; and was shipped to Lou P. Doherty's Stallion Station to be readied for stud duties next season. Mr. Doherty and E. Barry Ryan, owner of Normandy Farm, Lexington, bought the half brother, by *Alibhai, to Hasty Road for $362,345.67 by sealed bid from the Clifford Mooers Estate last December.

This year, racing in Mr. Doherty's name, the now syndicated five-year-old horse won the Metropolitan as well as the Suburban, to raise his life income to $432,650.

For Mr. Mooers, Traffic Judge took the Prairie State, Withers, Ventnor Turf and Woodward Stakes, Ohio Derby, Jerome Handicap and Turf Cup. F.T.P.

KEENELAND FALL SALES

Tentative dates for the Keeneland Fall Sales, October 14-24, for yearlings, and Oct. 28-31 for breeding stock. The deadline for entries is August 10th which should be sent to the Breeder's Sales Company, 145 East High Street, Lexington, Kentucky.

This colt is a full brother to the present two-year-old purchased at Saratog last summer by the American Tobacco Company and the subject of a name contest entered by many of our readers. There is also a bay colt out of Granheart (Granville), the dam of the stakes winner Decimal and a daughter of the great broodmare Sweetheart by Ultimus. A chestnut filly is out of the Columbiana winner Sylvia Dear (Unbreakable) both of whose daughters to date have won. Meadowview Farms acts as Agent for Mrs. Helen E. K. the next spiritual leader of the Ismaeli Mohammedans because it was realised that Prince Aly could not carry out both these duties and the interest of the studs and the racing stables as well. Madame Vuillier said: "Prince Aly sacrificed the Imamate (Moslem Leadership) in order to safeguard the magnificent stables in France and Ireland which he and his father have established over the years. Prince Aly is the world's greatest expert on horses. He himself is the reason why the stables are flourishing so brilliantly. Nobody else could have achieved this result."

Madame Vuillier also declared that, while the family was in mourning, the horses would run in her name, probably retaining the green and chocolate colours of the late Aga Khan.

HUNTING

FAIRFIELD COUNTY HUNT

The Combination Fox and Drag Pack

Chester J. LaRoche, Jt. M.F.H.

Around 1924 or 1925 when I first joined the Fairfield County Hunt, the Merritt Parkway was built, and people said "Hunting is through in Fairfield." But Donald Perkins, our Master, said "Don't believe them. If you can't get through one way, you can get through another. You can hunt here for years as long as you care to do it and put in the work needed to open up new trails when old ones are closed off."

Fairfield has grown. In 1950 there were only about 100 people commuting to New York, an hour and 16 minutes away; today there are nearly 500. Westport had only 500 commuting in 1950; now there are 1,800 - anyway, it seems thousands. The towns are growing at the third most rapid rate in the country.

We are zoned for two or three acres in most of the Southport area and in much of the Fairfield area, and this has been a great help. But still houses go up fast. In 1940 and 1941, seeing what was coming, some of the members of the Hunt led by Carleton Palmer, Alfred Allen, Mrs. Clark, and a group from Goldens Bridge opened up the so-called Newtown country which is 20 to 25 minutes away by car. It is rural dairy and farming country, and it is there that we have a separate pack of foxhounds which goes out twice a week.

But still many of us like to hunt the old Fairfield country - around the Club itself. We manage this feat in what is beginning to be, although it is not yet, a suburban area.

We do this by a combination of drag

and foxhunting. We have demonstrated time after time that you can have a good pack of drag hounds that can also be a good pack of fox hounds. The most recent example of this was Saturday, February 23, 1957. It is that story I would like to tell.

Charlie O'Hearn, Assistant to the President at Yale, and Franklin Field have written a delightful song entitled: "You Can't Catch a Fox in Connecticut." There are songs about how the foxes start and go with the stop lights. We enjoy those songs, sing them, but we also enjoy our start-and-go foxes. And while it is true 'You can't catch a fox in Connecticut very often', sometimes they can give you more sport than is shown on many days in the best hunting countries in the world.

The Formal Season

The formal season starts in October, and we go through steadily until about January 10. Then we catch two or three weeks of bad weather - result, no hunting. But year after year around February 1 hunting becomes possible again, and those who persevere then have rewarding days.

It was February and, on my return from Nassau, the weather turned beautiful and the ground became dry enough to hunt. Our Fairfield Huntsman, Joe Avery, had laid a drag line back of Dick Rodger's place going north up to Jean Cochrane's house near the Parkway.

The Fairfield Hounds

We only had five couple of hounds out - three of our bitches were in season. The drag pack is in a state of development. Some are Duke of Beaufort breeding, excellent hounds, but they run a little too mute for us. We have several Orange County hounds including one of the best drag and fox hounds we have ever had. Several others we got from Ben Funk at Goldens Bridge. The rest are hounds that are a cross between our own hounds and the Groton pack. We breed for tongue and nose over and above everything else. The Fairfield hounds have to be able to hunt both a drag line and fox.

We lay a line so that the hounds have to work. We don't follow the paths - we pick it up, criss cross, put it on the stone walls, and do just the things a fox would do. We use fox litter. It's carried in a bottle and the end of a whip is dipped and dragged by a man on a horse about half an hour before we meet.

This particular day the ground was very, very dry. Scent was not too good. The hounds ran into what was once known as the Cedars, but which in the last year has been leveled off to make a three-acre development. When the owners are willing on a three-acre development, you can get around plenty. There aren't too many houses in this development yet, so we were able to go along the still unmade streets and work north, the hounds checking three times during this burst of about a mile and a half. They were allowed to cast themselves until they found the line.

Very often we have the line laid by one of our farmer friends who doesn't tell the Huntsman where it is. The Huntsman has to hunt his hounds just as if they were hunting a fox. We never try to fool our field. One of the worst things a Master can do is to make believe hounds are hunting a fox when they are running a drag line.

The drag line being run, we crossed Bayberry Lane back of Bill Kealy's farm near the Parkway to a covert where we often view a fox. This being blank we proceeded to Jay's where hounds opened, turned left, and ran into the big swamp back of Kealy's. The music was strong, and we felt they had probably run the fox to ground, as they often do in this covert.

But they opened up again and started south. We took the line of fences in back of Ned Bank's. Hounds checked but we let them work it out. At Fairfield, we can see more hound work than in most places because, by force of circumstances, we have to be near the hounds and because the foxes are of the "stop-and-go" type.

The day was dry and scent was not good but, as soon as hounds would strike damp or soft ground or a damp bridle trail down which the fox had run, scent would be stronger and they could be on the line.

We have one old bitch, ten years old, called Patches. While the other hounds had their heads down trying for the line, she ran it with her head up. Another hound out of Rapid (one of the cross-breds from Groton) by an American hound, Singer, carried a lot of the load also. Fletcher Harper's Orange County hound is a good worker with a great nose and is invaluable; he would have been kept in the Orange County pack except for occasional barking. These three hounds carried much of the load along with Radar, another one of the cross-breds from Groton, who is particularly good on stone walls.

This was start-and-go hunting - find, run, lose, work it out, then off again and the field right with the hounds.

We ran south. To my great dismay, in the middle of the fields opposite Cameron Clark's, which had been paneled and which we have been hunting for the last 34 years, I saw a big bulldozer and bucket and a new road. It seemed like a stab in the heart. These were 20 or 30 acres that we had all hoped the people in the vicinity would be able to get, but the terms of a developer were just too tough.

But the fox didn't seem to care. He amazed us by running within 100 yards of the moving machinery. Hounds were right after him, heads down, full cry. When we hit spots like this, we were always afraid the fox would go to ground in a familiar earth. But this fox didn't. He crossed right over to Merman's Lane Road, still going south, and into the Fernelly property.

"Some Real Music"

Joe Avery, the Huntsman, turned to me and said "Now you'll hear some real music because it's damp in there and the line will be strong." Believe me, we did! All this time the field were delighted at watching the hounds work-work-work, never giving up. Oftimes the whole show was within 35 yards of us. As we got into the marshy land back of Ned Banks', we again felt that this accommodating fox was bringing us home toward the Club and would probably take refuge in a familiar earth. But on he went, back and forth, twisting and turning, sometimes on stone walls paralleling our path, with the whole pack after him. Galloping fast again, we went south over Hull's Farms Road up into John Hersey's property. Here a Labrador Retriever and three boys turned the fox who started over toward my farm and Moorehouse Lane.

Most of the pack overran the line, but Singer, whom we had just bred to the wonderful bitch Patches, kept casting about, finally found, opened up, and they all came to him in the big fields opposite Fortune's and Tim Stone's.

The fox had doubled back outh over Cedar Road, on to Mill Hill, once again around to Cedar Road, then up into Hersey's, and finally to a swamp near my house. We regretfully decided that the hounds had enough - about 2 hours and 15 minutes of stop-and-go running, the action never ceasing except for short checks, and all within a 10 or 15 minute hack from the Club.

Well, you say, "What's so wonderful about all that?" Well, what's wonderful about it is that 34 years ago people said it just couldn't be, that we'd have to give up on hunting - any kind of hunting in this area. As a matter of fact, last year we virtually decided to stop foxhunting in the Fairfield area. We figured we could go on dragging. Probably next year will be the final decision to do so because a day such as this Saturday I am writing about is rare. There weren't any "cur" dogs around to bother us somehow or other. They're the ones that cause us our principal trouble. If it weren't for them, we could still get in half an hour or so of foxhunting for the next five years. But if this is the end of our foxhunting, it ended on a glorious note.

Of course, we will continue drag hunting in Fairfield. We feel that we can drag for the next ten or fifteen years, perhaps even after that, because large parts of certain areas are owned by members of the Hunt Club or other friendly people.

Meanwhile, the younger children in Bolton School and those from the big new boys' school, Fairfield County Day, are coming along. We now have 22 boys from Fairfield County Day taking weekly lessons at the Club. So it looks as if promising days are ahead for Fairfield. Anyway, it's all a bonus for the busy businessman and housewives in our field who have to take their foxhunting on the run, many of whom can only manage one day at Newtown - where we expect to go on for years to come.

A Day With The United Hunt

Dr. William Roche

In the good old days (pre-war) I had great hunting with this County Cork pack with that great sportsman Major Watt, M. F. H., hunting hounds. Fox hunting starts in Ireland in October and finishes at the end of March. When frost finished the fox hunting season in the States we crossed over to Ireland.

Some weeks ago I had a day with the United. We met near Whitechurch, the sun was shining, no wind and as balmy as May. I said to myself we are only going to have a nice day in the country, it was so hot.

We drew Ballinvarrig a four acre gorse cover in bloom. The hounds did not open for 20 minutes although we had viewed a large typical red Irish fox on several occasions ambling around the covert unconcerned. I knew it was a bad scenting day, but of course I was wrong. He broke cover and the hounds picked up the scent in the open and they were after him like the hammers of hell over the best bit of hunting country in Ireland. About every 150 yards there was a jump, great big safe stone faced banks with enough room for a hundred horsemen riding abreast and never a strand of wire; there is no need for it stock could not get over these high broad safe vertical banks and what a thrill they are to jump, and how safe for the well mounted rider for they never crumble.

At a good hunting pace our pilot led us towards Kilavarrig. He was a straight-running sporting fox, but as the pace was getting hot he changed direction and turned right handed up the hill. Hounds lost the line for a short time, but were soon again in full cry until the pace got so hot that he went to ground in a rabbit hole. We were glad to have a breather after 2 miles of the best. Within 5 minutes he bolted and leaving Hegarty's farm buildings on his right he turned left handed and back through the covert where we found him but he did not tarry. He faced for Killindaniel, then down to the quarries at Ballinahina, over the river and up the hill to Piercetown where, unfortunately, a hare jumped up in front of hounds so a good dog fox was saved for another day.

This was a good gallop of about 50 minutes over 60 or 70 fences that will in this second hunt without a check and we jumped about 150 fences.

My hireling had done me proud so I dismounted and we walked the few miles to his trailer.

Two of my American friends have never hunted in Ireland before and had never jumped a bank or a stone wall. Although they were experienced horsemen they feared they would be embracing Mother Earth after a few jumps, but none of us had a fall.

British Heavyweight Hunters

It is interesting to learn that the Hunters' Improvement Society is to experiment this year with a new scheme to encourage the breeding of heavyweight hunters. No doubt this is the outcome of recent complaints about the present-day scarcity of these animals.

always be a memory. I said to my United friends "Well, even if we do not have another hunt we have had a great day". But I was so wrong the best was yet to come.

The next day was Mervyn Smith's good covert at Ballinahina, another gorse cover of about 10 acres, which has always provided a good hunt this season. After 10 minutes the fox broke at the Coole Hill side of the covert and went away as if for Piercetown. He turned right handed at Ballinahina forge over the road and through the fringe of a Kale field, then over the stream and across the bog and up nearly to the Whitechurch Road. Then he turned right handed and crossed the stream again and along left handed to Killavarrig where he was viewed one field ahead of hounds. Then he put in a great burst across the Whitechurch Rd. where we stopped the hounds as all the followers and horses had more than enough having covered 10 miles Lethbridge, M. F. H., Mr. Hugh Sumner and Major K. P. Wallis) is to select at the hunter show at Shrewsbury on June 27 one or two non-Thoroughbred colts shown in the yearling class, for the award of 50 pound premiums, on condition that the animals are kept entire.

A further 50 pounds will be granted the second year if the panel is satisfied with the colts' development as likely heavyweight hunter sires. If no yearlings considered the right type are shown at Shrewsbury no award will be made. The idea behind the scheme is the hope that it might eventually produce fillies which in due course would develop into the heavier type of brood mare which at present is in such short supply. Cohn School

One hundred and seven dollars were realized for the U. S. Equestrian Team, Inc., at the annual horse show sponsored by the Men's Club of Cohn High School in Nashville, Tenn.

This sum was collected at one of the afternoon hack and horsemanship programs that precede most of the Nashville area one-night gaited and walking horse shows. Cohn was among eight such competitions sponsored and directed by the "Horse Sense" column of The Nashville Tennessean. For such occasions, the show management provides the ribbons and the sponsor brings the judge and the small silver trophies, and collects 50 cents entry fee in each class for the USET.

The Cohn show always matches the entry fees so that $1 was realized for every entry at this event.

Largest was the walk-trot-gallop hack class where 21 competed. Of these, 10 were Thoroughbreds trying for the Del Holman Memorial Award, a Special for

Nashville Junior

An atmosphere of care-free good humor characterized the equitation and pleasure mount classes that served as afternoon curtain raisers to the night money program at the Nashville Junior Riding Club Horse Show.

Eleanor Ann Pewitt, 17, and Janet Jordan, 19, were the only three time winners. The former headed three equitation events, Miss Jordan scoring in hunter type pleasure horses, Thoroughbred pleasure horses, and the open pair event (with Betty Brothers).

JUST ARRIVED ! !

LE WA FARM has imported 40 CONNEMARA ponies which have just arrived from Ireland. They are mostly greys with a few chestnuts and bays, are 14.2 hands in height, and are from 3 to 6 years old. The Connemara, known in Ireland as a cob, won top honors at Dublin this year.

CONNEMARAS are ideal mounts for Juniors

They are well-mannered, are great jumpers, make beautiful hunters and are very easy to handle - besides being good-looking.

SHOW STORIES

Friendly Horseman's

It took a twelve-year-old boy to show them how to do it in the knock down and out class at the Friendly Horseman's Club Horse Show at Denver, Pa.

Jerry Frankhouser, twelve, riding Winnipeg, owned by his father, Willis Frankhouser, was the only rider to clear all eight jumps in the class. Six others went as far as four, and that's all. But in the jump off, Freeland Evans, riding J. Ray Patterson's Mr. Midnight, and Marsh Lockhart, riding Rock A Bye, of Rocky Hill Stables, both cleared them all, then tossed for position. Second went to Mr. Midnight and third to Rock A Bye.

In the jumper stake, Miss Lockhart had a bad spill - horse and rider - and suffered an injured shoulder.

Jumper championship, however, went to Mrs. E. T. Hirst's Any Time, ridden by Bud Evans to victory in the other two jumping events.

The hunter tricolor was captured by Hi Rock, also of Rocky Hill Stables, while twelve-year-old Ruby Zemo was reserve with This Is It.

More than 30 youngsters turned out for the equitation class, divided only by age groups, and not by types of equitation. Jeannie Ramsey won for the younger division and Phyllis Ann Zuber for the older group.

Bent Creek

In July 1950, a small horse show was started at the Bent Creek Ranch near Asheville, N. C. Since then, it has grown from a ranch entertainment to a sizeable hunter show. This year close to 150 horses were entered from North Carolina and neighboring states. An outstanding horse was Another Battle, owned and ridden by Louise Coker, who won the ladies hunters and the junior equitation over fences. Sally Fool, a green jumper, belonging to Wayne and Neil Staney, out did many old campaigners to win the knockdown and out, and the jumper stake. Mr. W. E. Kuhn and Dr. O. C. Carmichael on Open Spring and Jump Master also did very well in the pair classes.

It is not surprising that the show is so popular, as it has such an ideal setting. The outside course is a large area of hilly terrain, simulating a hunting field. The ring is strategically placed, where the spectators may view the classes while comfortably sitting on the well shaded terrace of the ranch house. W. C. Newman, manager of the Bent Creek and Sandhurst stables, is responsible for the show and its progress. E.C.

THE CHRONICLE Olympic Dressage Test

The recent Aachen (Germany) Show was the scene of a conference of international dressage judges, concerned with working out improvements of the official Olympic dressage test, which has met with much criticism, especially at last year's Olympic games. Many dressage experts find the present test too much of a circus performance with not enough natural movements of the horse. Germany's leading dressage rider, Herr Schultheiss, gave a demonstration for the benefit of the international dressage judges assembled in Aachen, which included the old test and possible improvements, which were received with great interest. Although no official comments have been made so far, it is to be hoped, that a new, more natural test will be worked out and published soon.

LIPPIZAN HORSES

A very definite drawing card at the St. Jude's Horse Show were the famed Lippizan horses owned and exhibited by Frieda Paster and her mother, Mrs. Luciana Paster. They have four of these horses, one of which is sired by the horse given to General George Patton when he saved these fine horses from extinction during the war. These performers were brought to this country in 1950 by John Ringling North and were with him until the disbanding of the Big Top. Since then they have been touring the major shows of the country with their exhibition. Exhibitor.

Aachen International Show

R. Schlosser

As usual the climax of the German Show season was the Aachen CHIO. The show-ground, with its large variety of fixed obstacles of all kinds, the dream of any show secretary, is probably, together with Dublin, the finest of its kind in Europe. This year new tribunes together with more stabling facilities had been built. In spite of the heat wave there was a record crowd, 50,000 alone on the last day of the show.

Since the war Aachen has again become the most important show in Europe. This year, with the exception of Britain's crack riders, horses from all over Europe were assembled. Brazil sent a very strong team to defend the Nations Cup which it won last year. From behind the Iron Curtain there was the Polish team, which travelled on from the Leipzig show to Aachen.

Champion at Der Springpferde

In the last two years an attraction at Aachen has been the Jumping World Championship, won twice by Herr Winkler. As a substitute for this event, which was missing this year, the Committee included the "Championat der Springpferde" i.e. the jumping horse championship. Competitors for this competition first had to qualify in a Puissance (high jumping) and a Parcours de Vitesse (time) to become eligible for the Final.

Final competition for the championship was a rather gruelling course, which was probably harder than a normal Nations Cup course over 500 meters with 15 obstacles, including a rather difficult double and treble combination. In the first round 3 horses had clear rounds: Herr Tiedemann's Meteor, Raimondio d'Inceo's Merano and Goyaaga's Fahnenkonig. Here Herr Winkler's Halla had bad luck, touching a rather simple obstacle and getting 4 faults. In the second round Halla went clear, whereas Merano and Fahnenkonig got 4 faults and Meteor fell behind with 8 faults. In the following round all three horses took the remaining 6 obstacles with no faults. In the second barrage 4 obstacles were made higher and Fahnenkonig was eliminated with 4 faults. For the third barrage 2 obstacles were again made higher and both Merano and Halla got 4 faults. In the fourth barrage Halla went clear quite unexpectedly and Lt. d'Inceo, whose Merano had been difficult in the previous barrage gave up. Thus once again a duel between Halla and Merano was decided in Halla's favour, with Fahnenkonig third and the now 14-year-old Meteor fourth. Actually this result was by no means unexpected, as these four horses have for some time been Europe's leading show jumpers.

Prix Des Nations

The Prix des Nations was held over a rather tough course, with eight teams competing. In the first round only Herr Tiedemann's Meteor, Herr Benzikofer's Falco (Switzerland), Senor Pessoa's Copacabana (Brazil) and Herr Winkler's Fahnenjunker got round the course with no faults. The Polish team withdrew, after its first rider was eliminated for 3 refusals. The teams of Denmark and Belgium also withdrew. Leading after the first round was the German team with only 8 faults, followed by Brazil (16), Switzerland (24) and Spain (32). In the second round Fritz Tiedemann again had a clear round, thus being the only rider with two clear rounds, the other clears being Herr Schockemohle and Lt. Col. Menezes (Brazil). Germany thus won the Nations Cup with a total of 8 faults; Brazil (28), last year's winner, second; Switzerland (64), third; Spain (68) fourth; and Turkey (100) fifth. In this event Herr Winkler had to ride the young Fahnenjunker, Halla having injured herself.

Grosser Preis

Climax of the Aachen Show was the traditional "Grosser Preis von Aachen" which, together with Hamburg Jumping Derby, is the most coveted individual jumping trophy in Germany. Owing to the large number of competitors this event had to be divided into two divisions. Ten horses qualified for the first barrage, in which Herr Tiedemann's Meteor, Sen. Goyaaga's Toscanella, Herr Hernasteens' Duncan and d'Inceo's Quiet Man were eliminated. In the second barrage the only clear rounds were those of Fahnenkonig, Halla and Herr Schockemohle's Bacchus. The third barrage included only two obstacles, a wall and the oxer. Sen Goyaaga's Fahnenkonig brought both of them down, whereas Herr Winkler and Schockemohle each had clear rounds. For the third barrage the wall went up to two meters and the oxer to 1.47 and 1.75 respectively with a depth of 2 meters. Bacchus brought both obstacles down and Halla again had a clear round. Herr Winkler thus won again the Grosser Preis of Aachen, which he had previously won with Orient. Nevertheless the second place for Herr Schockemohle's Bacchus came as quite a surprise to the general public, as this young farmer has only recently come into the front rank. He had quite a lot of success during the past winter season in the various national and international indoor shows. At the moment he is at Warendorf where, he forms, together with Herr Winkler, a training team. Apparently he has learned quite a lot from his master.

Aachen Show

of Herr Winkler's Halla. After winning the gold medal in Stockholm this great mare did not compete again until shortly before the Aachen Show. Her right forefoot after Stockholm had to be cauterized. She is now 12 years old and has had rather a strenuous career, being a retired race horse which was bought by the German Olympic Committee as a three day event prospect, where she was rather a flop, becoming overexcited each time she entered the dressage ring. After that she was bought by Herr Winkler and has since won numerous victories all over the world.

Dressage

In the Grand Prix de Dressage, i.e. the official Stockholm test, at first Frau Rosemarie Springer (Germany), on Thyra with 458 marks, lead Herr Chammartin (Switzerland) on Wohler with 454 marks. According to the rules there has to be a difference of at least 6 marks between the first and the second in this event, so there had to be a "barrage" after which Frau Springer still led with 487 marks, Herr Chammartin getting only 480. Third came the Rumanian G. Theodorescu's Palatin with 425 marks. This combination had already been successful at the Leipzig CHI, where it beat the Russian elite.

Bishop Hollow Polo Herman S. Ferry

The Bishop Hollow Polo Club field in Newtown Square, was the scene of a bitterly fought game Sunday, July 8th between the home team and the Media All Stars. The visitors scored an upset when they held the Bishop Hollow Team to a 5 to 5 tie. On the toss up the Media team won the toss and were declared the winner of the game.

With Philadelphia's noted father-son combination in the visitors line-up, West and Buddy Maloney (ex P.M.C. star) the Bishop Hollow team took a 3 to 2 lead in the first chukker. This mainly due to the 2 goals scored by Geo. Flanagan, one of which was an 80 foot shot from a sharp angle.

In the last chukker with the visitors behind Buddy Maloney tied it up with a 75-yard goal with a minute to go. He had two more shots, but both missed pay dirt by inches. Ehmer and Swann scored 3 goals apiece for their teams.

This game made the Bishop Hollow record 6 wins, 2 losses, one tie for this season.

The Wilmington Polo Club in a bitter, stubbornly fought game handed the Bishop Hollow Polo Club their third defeat of the season by a score of 5 to 2 on the Bishop Hollow field, Newtown Sq., Sunday, July 14th.

The visitors, paced by Harley Williams' 3 goals, took the lead in the first chukker and held on to the finish, turning aside attacking thrusts by the home team time and time again.

Harley Williams with a 60 yard lofted shot from near the side board and Everett King, Jr.'s 40 foot under the neck backhanded shot featured the first chukker; from then on the attack of both teams were repeatedly broken up and in the last two chukkers attempt after attempt was turned aside.

Brandywine Polo

Bill Phillips

Norm Taylor, playing his second game of the evening as a Brandywine substitute for the Solo Cup Polo Club of Milwaukee, scored two goals in the final minute of play to defeat Brandywine P. C. 11-9, in the nightcap contest of a doubleheader on July 17.

The scoring margin in the action-packed thriller never exceeded two points and was tied six times, twice in the last period when Billy Whitehead knotted the count at 8-8 on a pass from Teammate Jack Ryan with 2-1/2 minutes remaining. Whitehead tallied again for Solo Cup, but Ray Harrington countered for Brandywine to even the totals at 9-all. With one minute remaining Taylor broke the tie, 10-9, and dribbled from the lineup for another marker to clinch the victory as the bell sounded.

Jack Ryan paced the winners with four goals, but Ray Harrington tabbed scoring honors with five markers.

All winning streaks must come to an end and that is what happened to the streak of the Bishop Hollow Polo Club. After winning six straight the Rosemont Polo Club up-set the home team on June 30th by a score of 6 to 5 at Newtown Square, Pa.

The Bishop Hollow threesome started out in the first chukker to make a run away of the game when, through the brilliant playing of Hervey Swann, they scored three goals in a hurry. But the visiting team came back and, with an outburst of fast riding sparked by the playing of Jack Ehmer, the half ended with Rosemont leading 4 to 3.

Bark Hickox, riding at No. 1, hit three of the Meadow Brook tallies. He had Joe Schwartz, Pedro Silvero and Devereux Milburn as his riding mates.

At the Blind Brook Club in Purchase, N. Y., Randy Crawford scored in 3:28 of the sudden-death overtime period to give the Blind Brook four a 9-8 decision over the Farmington (Conn.) Polo Club. The goal was Crawford's fifth of the match.

humorous comments on the British horse world as he has seen it during his lifetime of seventy odd years makes a fascinating picture. Perhaps not all of us would accept Smith's standards of horsemanship as being completely up to date, for despite a remarkably forward looking viewpoint, he is quite obviously of the old school, with his roots going back into the last century. But as a commentator on men, horses and affairs he is well worth listening to.

Very truly yours,

Boy Scouts Riding Program

Dear Sir:

In answer to your questions regarding the Post: we started our riding program some four years ago when Captain T. Frederick Marsman, head of the Riding Department at the Dana Hall Schools here, agreed to conduct an eight week course for our Scouts in the horsemanship Merit Badge. Instead of stopping at the end of eight weeks, however, Captain Marsman was sufficiently impressed by our boys and they so taken with the sport of riding - which was new to most of them - that we continued to ride every Tuesday evening during the school year and have been at it ever since. Captain Marsman has been forced to discontinue the instruction and I have taken over under his supervision. We have continued to use the horses, indoor riding ring, and other facilities of the School, and each year have developed our program a little bit more.

This past year our membership included 22 active Scouts ranging in age from 14 - the minimum age for Explorer Scouts - through 18, and we have worked two nights a week instead of one, with the beginners in a separate group. We tried at first to work along the same lines that the Captain uses with his girls from the School - Pony Club work and jumping - but found that our boys leaned definitely towards cavalry style stuff, which is all that I know having been a member of the old 110th Cavalry, Mass. National Guard in the '30s. As a result we switched completely this year into drill work and ended up with a very nice little drill team which showed a couple of times. If we can develop as good a team next year (two-thirds of this years members of the drill team are leaving town for college!) - we plan to show at the Dedham Show in the spring and, as a matter of fact, Myopia just asked to have the team ride at their Labor Day Show but with the attrition mentioned above plus the fact that our boys are scattered for the summer this is out of the question. We hope for one or two other dates for the drill team in the spring as well.

For the past three years we have "worked" the Dana Hall and Mass. Professional Horseman's Association shows and this spring we worked the Dedham Show - by which I mean that the boys handled the ring gates, stood by to replace bars at the jumps, acted as judges' secretaries, messengers, and did about the same sort of work that we of the 110th used to do at the Boston Horse Show in the old days at Commonwealth Armory.

In addition to the riding program, we maintain all the usual activities of an Explorer Scout unit: advancement, camping, hiking, mountain climbing, canoe trips, service details, co-ed parties, etc. Our boys put in almost two school nights a week in addition to much time over week-ends. This means they have to be a pretty top-notch bunch to be able to do this, keep up in their school work, etc. Surprisingly enough, most of the older boys also play on one or more high school athletic teams, and are active in other extra-curricular activities - all of which thoroughly confounds many parents and other youth leaders who wonder just how so much can be fitted into any boy's weekly schedule. Summers, our youngest group always spends a month at Philmont, the National Scout Ranch in New Mexico, and most of the other Scouts work for the Appalachian Mountain Club or similar organizations in jobs which they secure through our own employment program.

I hope this lengthy recital will give you something of our background.

Very sincerely yours,
Wm. Bradford Gove

back off the road and sit on the brow of a hill overlooking 50 acres of pasture. In all there are approximately 150 acres, including some woodland where there are many bridle paths. The rest is mowed turf with ideal footing. The various fences, the cavalletti and gymnastics as well as the show type, are out of sight of the main road and buildings, providing complete isolation and privacy so that work can proceed without interruption.

The horses are in a large well kept barn of 12 boxstalls divided into two sections of 6 stalls - each with their own feed bins and water. The entrance and a small, but adequate, tack room separate the two sections.

Close by are the two buildings where the personnel is housed. The first consists of two small apartments over a garage - four bedrooms, two baths, a kitchen and living room. The rooms are small, not fancy but quite comfortable. Here the team members and the coach, Capt. de Nemethy live. A few yards away is the cottage with five bedrooms, two baths, living room and kitchen where the grooms live with extra space available for additional team members.

At the moment they are stabling the following horses: First Boy (Magid); Night Owl (Galvin); Wonabet (Steinkraus); Master William (Barney); Nautical (Wiley); Winston (Wiley); Rip Miller (USET); Bel-air (Chapot); War Bride (Morris).

Monmouth Hurdle Leaders

Sanford Stud Farms was the leading money-winning stable of the 16-program hurdle season with gleanings of $18,200 although it had won only one race. Runnerup was Mrs. Henry T. McKnight, whose "Darubini" annexed the Monmouth National Maiden Hurdle, with earnings of $14,375.

A. P. "Paddy" Smithwick was leading rider with four victories and Flint Schulhofer scored on three occasions.

Honors for leading trainer were divided between J. V. H. Davis and D. M. Smithwick, each saddling four winners.

Favorites won seven of 16 races for a winning percentage of 43.7.

An increase of nearly one per cent in the 1957 daily average mutuel handle over last year was posted, according to Chris Wood, Jr., director of hurdle racing.

Patrons wagered $2,055,216 on the 16 lesser obstacle events this summer for a daily average of $128,451 as compared to the $1,761,122 on the 14 events last summer for a daily average of $125,794.44.

The slight increase in betting this year was recorded over the record gain of 23 per cent effected in 1956.

ST. HUBERT'S VOICE. THE JOURNAL OF THE SPORTING FRATERNITY ALL OVER THE WORLD. PUBLISHED BY ST. HUBERT'S PRESS LTD. 3 RED PLACE, LONDON, W. 1, ENGLAND. VOL. I, NO. I, MARCH 1957.

This is the first issue of a 20-page newspaper published by the St. Hubert's Sporting Organization of Great Britain founded by Baron A. Konopka in 1953. It contains a message from Albert F. Messany, Grandmaster of the International Order of St. Hubert, founded in Austria in 1695. There are now St. Hubert organizations also in Ireland, France, Portugal, Holland, Germany, Belgium, Luxembourg, Morocco, Italy and Peru. Baron Konopka was in the U.S.A. and helped form a United States St. Hubert organization. The object of the St. Hubert's fraternity is "to create a brotherhood and understanding among all sportsmen who hunt, shoot, and fish and to encourage all forms of sport and the highest standards of sportsmanship." The highest standards of sportsmanship."

The issue contains a history of St. Hubert; articles on deer stalking in Scotland; salmon fishing and fly casting in the British Isles; Otter hunting in Britain; sport in Central Italy and in Denmark; wildlife restoration programs in the United States including Duck Unlimited; shooting in Persia (Iran); fishing in Norway; fox-hunting in England, the Netherlands, and in Ireland; and on bloodhounds and falconry. There is also a description of the St. Hubert's Club of Great Britain which is situated at 53 Green Street in London.

Bill Hartack had the mount on Iron Liege.

Jimmy Jones trains for Calumet (Mrs. Gene Markey). The three-year-old colt is a home-bred.

Alhambra finished first for the fifth straight time when he won the George Woolf Memorial on July 31. One of the victories didn't stick, though; he was disqualified after his stablemate committed a foul in the Arlington Futurity.

Following Alhambra home in the Woolf were Terra Firma, Leather Button and Unique Commando in the order listed.

The race was worth $10,175 and put Alhambra's earnings at $39,790. The colt was bred by his owner, Fred W. Hooper. He is by Olympia, from the Ephithet mare, Robins Charm.

Arcaro was up for the six-furlong Woolf Memorial. C. R. Parke trains the two-year-old colt.

Short Takes of Late Stakes

The favored Vertex scored in Monmouth Park's Choice stakes on August 3.

Bridgework took the Sorority Stakes on July 7.

At Del Mar, Royal Academy was home first in the Oceanside Handicap (July 27). Be My Honey took the Junior Miss, on July 31.

Chalk Talk was awarded the Narragansett Nursery after Harlow was disqualified. That race was run on July 30.

Rockingham's Pelham Handicap (August 3) went to Switch On.

Midwest Hunt Race Assn. Bulletin

All of us interested in the future of Midwest Hunt Race Association racing can look back on the 1957 season with much satisfaction and confidence in the future. Our best previous season was that of 1953 and, while complete figures are not available for that outstanding year, they are for the one just ended and are mentioned below with the firm belief that we have just completed by far our most outstanding record to date.

A total of 60 horses went postward in sanctioned races alone, including flat, hurdles, brush and timber. These 60 horses represent 41 individual owners and competed for a total of $18,550 in purses. It must also be remembered that the only disappointing note in 1957, the temporary loss of The Royalton meeting, kept this figure from being even larger.

The number of amateur riders competing during the season, namely 26, is by present-day standards particularly encouraging, notwithstanding the fact that three of them were borrowed from eastern racing and several others accepted only one or two mounts. These included two new, young riders who can be counted on to take up some of the slack in the riding ranks which is expected next year. All of us should be on the lookout constantly for promising younger men who can be developed as riders and anyone who can be encouraged in any way to support our racing.

The River Downs management at Cincinnati has shown some interest in carding a hurdle race, as most of you know. This year your President made every effort to make this valuable addition to our circuit a reality but was working on such a slim margin of time after The Royalton cancellation that it could not be worked out. This race and the re-entry of Royalton to the circuit are matters that should be uppermost in our minds for the coming year.

No report would be complete without recognition and gratitude for the financial help offered by The United Hunts Racing Association. For a number of years this organization has lent us valuable help, providing without cost very liberal insurance for riders. This year they went further and donated enough money to bring all timber purses up to a minimum of $1,000. In so doing they solved for us a long-standing problem in this very important but often neglected division of hunt racing. The result of this additional money for timber racing was a very evident increase of horses as well as interest in timber racing in general. It is again urged that all of you take out membership in The United Hunts Racing Association. Guilford Dudley, Jr., President. Carter W. Brown, Secretary.

German Racing In Retrospect

The 88th German Derby at Hamburg resulted in a thrilling finish between the three colts ORSINI, WINDFANG and the Austrian Derby winner UTRILLO. 2 min 30 sec. for Orsini was the third best time ever achieved at the classic 2400 metres in a German Derby. The record time of 2:28.8 of the never-beaten filly Nereide (1936) remained thus untouched. Among German turf specialists there is no doubt that, owing to the "golden boy" Lester Piggott's skillful riding, the Erlenhof-bred Orsini was in front. Windfang's great stretch run came too late by a neck! For Lester Piggott the Sunday excursion to Germany meant an additional $16,666; he had previously ridden the winners of 3 out of the 4 English classics. With a total of 139,300 D.M. (35,000 appr.) Orsini is now Germany's biggest 3-year-old post war earner (8 wins and 2 second places out of 10 starts). For his breeder he was the 8th winner of the German Derby. In his debut he was beaten by a quick filly. The German 2000 Guineas saw Orsini in front of his opponents. In his last test before the German Derby, the Union-Race at Cologne, he finished 3 1/2 lengths behind Windfang. But it has to be taken into account that his usual jockey Walter Held was then in hospital.

Orsini, bred in Baron Thyssen-Bornemisza's Erlenhof-Stud, is the son of the great Ticino - six time leading German sire since 1950 - out of Oranien by Nuvolari-Omladina by Athanasius, the latter still holding court in the USA. Trainer of Orsini is Adrian von Borcke who trained German Derby winner Niederlaender and Atatuerk when they ran in the Washington D. C. International, P.A.

SARATOGA STEEPELCHASE

Steeplechasing at the Saratoga Meeting from August 5th to 31st features $77,500 in stakes, plus over night races which will provide a jumping race every day including Saturday - more racing of this type than has been carded in recent meetings. Purses at Saratoga and Belmont have been upped $120,000 over 1956 jumping values.

SEVENTEENTH FOAL

The grand old matron, Marching Along, by Man o'War, now 26 years old, recently foaled her seventeenth foal, a colt by Shivaree at the Maryland farm of Janon Fisher. She will be bred again this year.

AMBROSE CLARK

F. Ambrose Clark, who suffered a broken rib when his dog cart turned over at his Old Westbury, Long Island estate some time ago, expects to be sufficiently recovered to be on hand for the opening day at Saratoga.

EBELHARDT RELEASED FROM HOSPITAL

Paul Ebelhardt, Manager of Mrs. Gene Markey's Calumet Farm, Lexington, Ky., was released from a Lexington hospital July 25, 34 days after the golf cart in which he was riding was struck by lightning June 22 at the Lexington Country Club. F.T.P.

O'FERRALL AT SARATOGA

Frank More O'Ferrall, the Irish trainer who has made such a remarkable record as a buyer of yearlings, will visit Saratoga as a guest of John W. Hanes, president of the Greater New York Association. Among his more outstanding purchases have been *Windy City II for $2,000, the Irish Derby winner Dark Warrior for the same amount, this year's leading Irish two-year-old Golden Game for $3,000.

NORTHERN WESTCHESTER PHA

An experiment in running in mid-week is the decision of the Northern Westchester PHA Show for junior riders to be held on Tuesday, August 20, rather than on a weekend as in the past. Chairman Michael O'Riordan announced his committee's decision after hearing of an unusually large number of junior shows, Recognized and otherwise, on nearby weekends.

LEX WILSON

Lex Wilson of St. Mary's, Ontario, the trainer of Swoon's Son which he is campaigning to become the world's largest money winner, started his training career in the 1920's when he handled steeple-chasers at the eastern hunt race meetings.

RAKISH AIR

After the final day's judging of the Highlands All Junior Horse Show held in Portland, Oregon, well known show judge Christopher Wadsworth was presented with a most impressive Stetson. The cowboy hat gave him a "Mat Dillon" air, but proved practical in the end as Mr. Wadsworth remarked that he had never been more shaded in his life. C. C.

WOMEN ON BRITISH THREE DAY TEAM

The editor of the British publication "The Light Horse" comments: "It was originally announced by the F. E. L. that there would be no European Horse Trials Championship this year, but in fact there is to be one in Denmark on October 3, 4, and 5, under the patronage of Her Majesty Queen Ingrid.

"A British team is to compete there and its composition calls for serious comment. First of all I affirm that there is no question of the worthiness of those selected; they have earned their places fairly and, I have no doubt, will acquit themselves well. Having said this I protest that, in view of the existing Olympic rules which preclude women from this event and of the long-term objective of the next Olympic Games, it is quite fantastic to choose for this European championship four women and only one man under thirty out of the seven candidates. It is more than fantastic - it is a waste of the public money subscribed to the Olympic Equestrian Fund. It is questionable whether we ought to spend money on a foreign adventure this year, but, if we do, the adventurers should be men - and young men - who can be brought on and who will be at their physical peak by 1960. We are fortunate in having about half-a-dozen such men available at the moment; if a team has to go, they are the ones who should compose it. Whether they win or not is a matter of no importance; what matters now is experience and the gaining of time. A month ago we had three years in which to build an Olympic horse trials team; now, whatever happens in Copenhagen, we shall have to start again in 1958, with only two years to play with, instead of three."

J. H. WHITNEY AT SARATOGA

John Hay Whitney, ambassador to Great Britain, is returning to the United States in August for a vacation and will be at the Saratoga meeting.

PORLOCK VALE

The Porlock Vale Riding School, one of the principal establishments of its kind in the world, which was taken over by Arthur Owen in 1953 after the death of Capt. Tony Collings who built it up to a position of eminence, has recently been taken over by Capt. C. D. Leyland, for a number of years a partner and co-director with Capt. Collings.

REFEREE HOPPING

Earl Hopping, Jr., formerly a nine goal polo player in this country, has been refereeing recent polo matches in England.

PRESIDENT CLAY

Everett A. Clay, secretary and publicity director of the Hialeah race course, has been elected president of the Hialeah Chamber of Commerce.

THOROUGHBRED CLUB DINNER

Among those who attended the 25th anniversary dinner of the Thoroughbred Club on Saturday night preceding the Keeneland Sales were John W. Hanes, president of the Greater New York Association; Humphrey S. Finney, president of the Fasig-Tipton Company; Mr. and Mrs. E. Barry Ryan; Horatio Luro; R. N. Webster; Lucien Laurin; Harry Isaacs; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd P. Tate; Jack Skirvin and others.
